Aerospace engineering senior Carla Bodensteiner, left, and mechanical engineering and math senior Katrina Faucett, right, release a balloon Tuesday with temperature reading instruments near Akerman Hall. The two are part of the MN Space Grant Consortium that develops space instruments for NASA.