Institute of Technology Honors Course Rubric, Spring 2010

All Honors courses should be marked with an H or V (if both Honors and writing-intensive) and graded on an A-F basis. Current Honors courses listed below are color-coded to reflect the type of Honors course:

Red – Foundational courses offered as stand-alone, accelerated, challenging versions of regular University courses
Blue—Seminar courses that expose students to research in the field and/or prepare students for thesis work
Green—Directed research or independent study courses
Purple—Credits for research and writing senior thesis; may be taken independent or as group
Black—Contract courses in which students do an additional project, either individual or as a group, for a regular University course
