AEM 75th Anniversary
Schedule of Events

Thursday, September 23rd
7:00-9:00 Welcome Reception  Campus Club–West Wing, 403 Coffman Union, 300 Washington Ave.

At this opening reception alumni are invited to reminisce with new and old acquaintances and friendships! Current faculty, staff and graduate students will also be attending. (Pre-registration required)

Friday, September 24th
1:00-3:00 Indoor/Outdoor Picnic  AEM Library, 107 Akerman Hall, 110 Union St.

Alumni are invited to attend this picnic with current faculty, staff, graduate and undergraduate students. During this time you may tour the research labs with our faculty and graduate student research assistants.

Research Facilities
- Active Materials Lab  Rm 19
  Directors: T. W. Shield and R. D. James
- Magneto-Mechanical Testing Lab  Rm 24
  Directors: T. W. Shield and R. D. James
- Lab for Complex Flows  Rm 9
  Director: E. Longmire
- National Hypersonics Research Center  Rm 320
  Director: Graham Candler

3:30-5:00 Highlights of AEM Research  Memorial Hall, 35 McNamara Alumni Center, 200 Oak St SE.

Each research group within our department will provide an overview about the research being conducted. Faculty members presenting are Prof. Richard James (Solid Mechanics and Materials), Graham Candler (Fluid Mechanics), Gary Balas (Aerospace Systems).

5:00-6:15 Dinner Break (on own)
See enclosed Restaurant Guide for a list of restaurants near the McNamara Alumni Center.

6:30-7:00 History of our Department  Memorial Hall, 35 McNamara Alumni Center, 200 Oak St SE.

Department Chair, Prof. William Garrard, will present the history of our department and its development through the years.

7:15-8:15 Keynote Talk  Memorial Hall, 35 McNamara Alumni Center, 200 Oak St SE.

Dr. John Anderson is visiting from the Smithsonian Institute to present his lecture entitled “Breaking the Sound Barrier: The intellectual breakthroughs in aerodynamics that made it possible.”

Saturday, September 25th
8:00-10:00 pm Gopher’s Football Game  Hubert Humphrey Metrodome, 900 5th Ave S, Mpls

Watch as the University of Minnesota’s Gopher Men’s Football team takes on the Northwestern University Wildcats. Enjoy the game in the AEM Alumni reserved seating. (Pre-registration required)